Are you using ClemsonJobLink to your full advantage?

-  If your primary contact changes during restructuring, please make sure to notify the Employer Relations team to ensure your company receives the latest information.
-  Did you know? You can add YouTube videos, Twitter and Facebook to your employer profile to connect with students.
-  Design position descriptions with detail and enthusiasm to attract talent.

BUILDING YOUR BRAND

Many companies want to know how to get their brand out on-campus!

The Center for Career and Professional Development recommends visiting Clemson's campus at least twice a year for face to face interaction. Establishing a presence on campus will increase student awareness toward your company.

In order to be prepared for this fall, here are some ways you can increase your brand recognition with students.

-  Post your jobs through ClemsonJobLink
-  Schedule an on-campus recruiting date through ClemsonJobLink as early as June
-  Get your Clemson alumni to assist with recruiting on campus
-  Volunteer to conduct workshops in the Career Center on topics related to the job-search process
-  Attend the career fair offered each semester
-  Bring well-versed people to career events that are outgoing and friendly (but make sure they know your policies and represent your company well)
-  Sign up and interact at diversity and special-interest events on campus
-  Use internship and co-op opportunities to identify recruits for future full-time positions
-  Become a Career Fair Sponsor fair sponsor and participate in pre-fair events to help students such as "Preparing for the Fair, Mock Interviews and Resume Blitz".
-  Work with students and faculty on "Creative Inquiry" and other academic projects
-  Engage and participate in various presentations
-  Provide and educate students about your internship/co-op program
-  Join the "Michelin Career Center Corporate Partner Program" to support career services programs

For more information on how you can participate in the activities above, please contact Deb Herman at: dherman@clemson.edu.
