The Clemson Club of Baltimore/Washington, D.C. Program Contact	Elizabeth Jackson (jackson@clemsonclub.org)
Clemson University Program Contact	Troy Nunamaker, Center for Career & Prof. Development (tnunama@clemson.edu) Kathy Horner, Center for Career & Prof. Development (khorner@clemson.edu)
Affiliation	Clemson University
Optional Coursework	Part-time internships: INT 1010 Full-time internships: INT 2010 Academic internship course through academic department
Clemson University Financial Aid Inquiries Contact	Gail Woods, Financial Aid Office (noraw@clemson.edu)
Financial Aid	The INT 2010 course will mostly likely just put a “hold” on a student’s scholarships and maintain his/her student enrollment status. However, students MUST check with the Financial Aid Office for verification. The Center for Career and Professional Development CANNOT verify a student’s financial aid package. Students enrolled in an academic internship course need to also talk with financial aid.
Fees	INT 1010 or INT 2010 has a $200 course registration fee; Academic internship courses tuition fee may vary
Paid Internships	Paid and unpaid opportunities available
Enrollment Status	Enrolling in INT 2010 or academic course will maintain your enrollment with Clemson University
Room/Board	Housing and board is the responsibility of the student. Students are encouraged to also look into the Washington Intern Student Housing (WISH), an intern and student housing program for students who seek a community of interns while in Washington, D.C. - www.internsdc.com
